The Two Days National Seminar on Social Science and Library Science for Viksit Bhart @2047, was organised by the Humanities and Social Sciences Department and Learning Resource center of JUET, Guna, unfolded as a dynamic intellectual forum, bringing together scholars, experts, and enthusiasts to explore the intricate intersections of global governance, cultural diversity, and sustainable development.

Day-1:

Inaugural Session: The seminar commenced with an inaugural session that set the tone for the two days of engaging discussions. The event began at 11:00 AM with the warm welcome of esteemed guests and the ceremonial lighting of the lamp by esteemed dignitaries, accompanied by a soulful Ganesh Vandana that set a pious tone for the day. The convener, Dr. Sandeep Srivastava, gave a brief introduction about the seminar.

Launch of Souvenir: After the lighting of the lamp we proceeded with the launch of the souvenir for the national seminar, which was done by the members of the dais. The souvenir included the complete flow of the seminar, the vision, and the mission for conducting the seminar, along with the entire list of the faculty core committee members and the student core committee members. It also contained the list of all the participants for this national seminar, along with their respective research papers.

The event progressed with a series of insightful speeches. Dr. Kamini Bhasin requested Prof D.K.Rai , Hon'ble Vice Chancellor to address the audience, whose speech inspired the gathering with a visionary perspective on sustainability and Viksit Bharat. Next, Dr. Bhasin invited Prof Vipin Tyagi Dean (A&R) to share his thoughts, followed by a compelling address by the Chief Guest, Mr. Ajay Gupta, who shared profound insights into the Viksit Bharat. The Keynote Speaker, Prof. Durgesh Triparthi, addressed the audience on the role of humanities and social sciences and library sciences in achieving the vision of Viksit Bharat. The inauguration session of the seminar concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Kamini Bhasin, acknowledging the contributions of all dignitaries, sponsors, participants, faculty and staff members. The event concluded on a cordial note with an invitation to high tea.

Plenary Sessions: Notable speakers, including Prof. Hemant Sharma, provided valuable insights on how diversity can act as a catalyst for innovation and progress. The sessions underscored the importance of harnessing India's demographic dividend, fostering equitable growth, and adopting green technologies to position the nation as a global leader by 2047. These discussions highlighted actionable strategies to align national development goals with the vision of a prosperous and self-reliant India, ensuring a brighter future for generations to come.

Paper Presentation Sessions & Memento Distribution: The seminar witnessed paper presentation sessions where scholars from various disciplines presented their research findings. The cultural aspects highlighted the role of India's rich heritage and diversity as key strengths in building a resilient and cohesive society. By integrating traditional values with modern development paradigms, the vision for a prosperous, equitable, and sustainable Viksit Bharat @ 2047 came into sharper focus. The diversity of research topics and methodologies showcased the interdisciplinary nature of the seminar. After this, a token of thanks and acknowledgement was awarded to both the keynote speakers for this national seminar.

Gala Dinner & Cultural Program : A cultural evening celebrating the diversity inherent in our community was arranged. This provided a relaxed and enjoyable environment, a chance to network, exchange cultural perspectives.

Day-2:

Paper Presentation Sessions: During the first half of the day, at the national seminar, all participants had the opportunity to present their research papers in an organized and professional manner, before proceeding to the lunch break.

Online paper presentation: Following our lunch break, we held a professional and informative Online paper presentation featuring a diverse group of knowledgeable participants from various regions of the country. The purpose of this webinar was to share their paper presentations and expertise on the importance of diversity and sustainable development. Our goal was to help young aspirants by making a positive impact in their lives.

The success of the seminar was made possible by the unwavering support of the university administration, the diligent efforts of the organizing committee, and the active participation of scholars and attendees. Special thanks to our sponsors, whose support enhanced the overall quality of the event.

Valedictory Session: The seminar concluded with a valedictory session, featuring a summary of key findings from the sessions and discussions. The session featured an inspiring speech by the Chief Guest, Prof. Hergovind Singh from MANIT Bhopal, who emphasized the importance of innovative approaches to sustainable development and applauded the participants for their contributions. Certificates of participation and paper presentation were distributed by Chief Guest. Dr. Abhishek Shukla delivered a heartfelt vote of thanks, expressing gratitude to all dignitaries, Sponsors, organizers, and attendees for making the seminar a resounding success.

Conclusion: The Two Days National Seminar on Social Science and Library Science for Viksit Bharat @2047 was a collaborative effort that aimed to explore the complexities of our global landscape. The discussions were interdisciplinary, and the diverse perspectives shared demonstrated the richness of the academic community at JUET, Guna. In conclusion, the seminar was successful in bringing together scholars from different backgrounds to shed light on important issues related to sustainability and diversity.
